Stylish in Marbella...

Villa Palladiana from Bird's eye view

This past month I received one of the most outstanding Marbella Villas for sale: The villa La Palladiana is situated lofty in the noble urbanization "Sierra Blanca". She is something very special. The villa La Palladiana is modeled after the architectural style of the Italian architect Andrea Palladio (1508 to 1580), who, with his wonderful constructions such as the villa La Rotonda in Vicenza/Italy or the Villa Foscari, also called La Malcontenta, wrote architectural history. La Palladiana has been built considering not only the aesthetic principles of proportion and balance but also the client's functional and spiritual desires as well as under consideration of the site's actualities. La Palladiana was completed in 2000. A villa with a unique harmony and elegance, equipped with any kind of contemporary technology imaginable and the highest level of living comfort. Come to Marbella and I will show you the villa La Palladiana.

Afterwards I quickly followed the invitation of Marbella's mayor to the floor of city hall. During a festive ceremony, hollywood star Dolph Lundgren, who resides her with his family was appointed "Ambassador de Marbella". If the plenar hall sees so many flashlights and so many recording cameras and fans often? We all very much enjoyed the late, Mediterranean lunch with much Hollywood glamour.

Inge with Chauffeur + Stretch Limo in Vienna, filming for RTL

In Vienna I filmed a few days for RTL. The theme was just like real life: Inge, "perl" and real estate agent from Marbella arrived for an XXL luxury shopping spree at the romantic Austrian capital. I chose my personal shopping butler from a team of young and athletic men and spent the entire day shopping to my own heart's content; the black stretch limousine with uniformed chauffeur followed us. Again and again, my shopping butler dropped the bulging shopping bags into the limo, gave me the best advice when I tried on the clothes and masterfully assisted me in opening and closing zippers and buttons. ...and he stripped for me: I wanted to check on the comfort of the latest men's designer underwear. An unforgettable weekend in Vienna with a pleasant TV team.

And we also filmed in Marbella. Kabel1 shot a TV real estate report with me. While the sun was shining brightly, I showed tropical urbanizations, the luxury harbour Puerto Banus with its flair of designer boutiques, jewellers, noble restaurants, bars and clubs and also the hidden villas in the hills of Marbella. And then we went to the white beaches with their Spanish "Chiringuitos", where time doesn't matter...

ZDF also shot a real estate report. However, they put more emphasis on the under construction apartment buildings where we were filming at the time.

Finally, Jenny Gucci's bestseller "Gucci Wars" has been translated into German. Jenny Gucci, who also lives in Marbella, personally signed the new German edition "Der Gucci Krieg" at an exquisite event. Naturally, as a bookworm and customer I urgently needed numerous signed copies to give away to my family and friends. Jenny Gucci spoiled the secret that a movie based on the "Gucci Wars" is currently in the making.

This month ended with an invitation to the "Bavaria Day" right at the sea at "Cantina Beach". For an entire day the Spanish Chiringuito was transformed into a Bavarian beer garden with original "Moass beer", liver dumplings, pork hock, traditional Bavarian hats, lederhosen, traditional Bavarian calf protectors, dirndl and brass band music. If I have managed to drink an entire "moass" by myself?

And next month look forward to a new and special Marbella real estate. I will tell you and show you how I posed as a barely dressed model for a distinguished piece of art. Accompany me on my first Harley trip in the Black Forest in a pithily Harley outfit, to a charity ball, during play and sport in a select Marbella atmosphere, to an aristocratic art exhibition, to a big polo celebration in the best beach club and to an extensive summer shopping.

Until then yours truly,
